COLD STORAGE MEN ARE HIT BY NEW OHIO RULE; OPERATORS RESPONSIBLE

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29.—Upon operators of cold storage plants rests the duty of complying with the law, and any action they take is to be taken with the full knowledge of their responsibilities. Attorney General John G. Price declared in an extensive ruling handed today to Thomas C. Gault, head of the Dairy and Food Department. The ruling was called forth by claims of cold storage house owners that entire responsibility rested upon the owners of stored food. Following closely upon the Supreme Court decision giving to the state the right of sale in cases in which the provisions of the law have been violated, the ruling tends to limit further the use of the cold storage houses as a means of regulating the supply on the market to maintain prices. It also will facilitate the obtaining of information necessary to institute civil or criminal actions. Delay to Be Opposed In connection with the supreme court case, it developed today that the state will resist the attempt of the defendant companies to postpone further the final disposition of the pork in charge of the receivers, Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols, has granted the formal writ of error, but in doing so he struck out the portion of the submitted entry which would have carried with it a stay of execution until the Supreme Court of the United States passed upon the case. Unless the Federal Supreme Court ignores the state's resistance and grants the order in defiance of protest, the transaction may be completed by sale of the pork loins. In his ruling today the attorney-general said: "Persons, firms or corporations operating cold storage warehouses in this state are charged with the duty of not permitting food to be deposited therein for the purpose of sale if it previously has been in cold storage, either within or without the state, or both, beyond the time specified in Section 1155-12, General Code; or, if such time has not elapsed at the time of deposit, of not permitting food to remain in cold storage for such purpose beyond the time specified. In making up the maximum period of time prescribed and allowed by statute, the several periods of time the food has been stored in all the warehouses must be counted. Operator 'Acts at His Peril' "The licensed operator or manager of a cold storage warehouse acts at his peril in receiving into the warehouse food which has been in cold storage for the purpose of sale beyond the time specified in Section 1155-12, General Code, or by keeping it in cold storage for such purpose after the expiration of the specified time. "The Secretary of Agriculture has authority under Sections 1155-9 and 1155-17, General Code, to require the licensed operator of a cold storage warehouse to obtain the cold storage history of food deposited in his warehouse and embody the same in reports to be made under the former section. "BANDIT BAND ROBS BANK. DETROIT, August 29.—Six armed bandits held up the assistant cashier in a branch of the American State bank and took from the vault $3,000 in cash and Liberty bonds estimated by the police to total about $12,000. HORRIBLE FIND. YOUNGSTOWN, O., August 29.—Rats had mutilated the body of an unidentified man so badly that police were unable to tell whether he had been killed or had died of natural death when they found the body in the rear of an old building last night.

Strike Breakers Shipped to West From Pittsburgh

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) PITTSBURGH, August 29.—Street car service was resumed here today for the first time in two weeks, when 3,900 striking motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Street Railway company returned to work following a vote of the car men late yesterday to abandon the strike. The men went back to work at the wage increase of five cents an hour, granted them by the national war labor board recently, against which they struck two weeks ago last midnight. Eight hundred strike breakers were paid off and left the city last night when it was announced cars would be operated by the regular crew. The strike breakers never operated the cars, except Monday, when following rioting upon an attempt to run three cars, they were called off, in view of negotiations pending whether the regular workers would return. The strikebreakers were marched to a railroad station under police protection and en route for Los Angeles, from which point they will help break a railroad strike. It is reported by a local newspaper.

Federal Stand Aids Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The government's firm stand against the striking railway employees in the west had an electrical effect on the stock market at the lively opening today. Southern Pacific was the favorite rising 3 1/2 points on first sale which comprised a block of 2,000 shares at 162 to 165. United States Steel recovered on its quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent. and an additional fraction on its transaction of 3200 shares. Other strong stocks included Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and Mexican Petroleum.

NORMAL CONDITIONS IN CALIFORNIA SECTION ARE THE RESULTS OF ORDERS

SECURITY OWNERS' PLAN FOR RAILWAY CONTROL GIVEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Principles of the Warfield plan, under which a minimum interest return of 6 per cent. on railroad securities would be guaranteed through a mandatory adjustment of rates by the interstate commerce commission, were endorsed by "fifty million persons owning or directly interested in railroad securities," in a memorial to congress submitted to the house interstate commerce committee today by S. Davies Warfield, president of the national association of owners of railroad securities. Signers of the memorial numbered 5,990 investors including savings banks, national and state banks, surety companies, trust companies and life and fire insurance companies. The shipping public also was represented in the endorsement by 16 municipal trade organizations, with an estimated total membership of 30,000. Insurance companies giving their endorsement were said to represent 23,000,000 policy holders, while it was estimated that 5,500,000 persons were represented by savings banks. In presenting the memorial, Mr. Warfield said its signers did not ask for continuation of automatic rate-making of the past, but a just and definite solution by the congress of the most important problem now before the country.

Drastic Action of Director Hines and Union Heads is Having Effect.

Street Railway Trouble at Louisville Continues Despite all Efforts.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., August 29.—The strike of railway men in the extreme west and southwest, from indications was crumbling today. Warned by Walker D. Hines, director-general of railroads that if they did not operate trains by 7:00 o'clock Saturday morning the railroad administration would undertake to do so, sentiment among strikers swung toward a return to work in many instances. San Francisco yard men, after having been out about 36 hours, agreed to return to work at 8:00 o'clock today. Virtually normal conditions had been restored at San Jose, Troy and Oakland. At Los Angeles the question of returning awaited approval of the meeting of union officers today and second meeting of the locals represented by those officers. At San Bernardino where members of the "big four" brotherhoods are out, the engineers were said to have expressed willingness to return to work, but were bound by an agreement that all four crafts would return together, while other crafts continued to oppose a return. Meanwhile traffic continues virtually paralyzed from Albuquerque, N. M., and Yuma, Ariz., west to Los Angeles, and for a considerable distance north and south of that point on all lines. OUTLOOK IMPROVES. WASHINGTON, August 29.—Although it was thought that the drastic action threatened by Director-General Hines together with the supporting stand taken by officials of the brotherhoods involved would hasten the return to normal conditions, developments today in the railroad strike situation in California and other western states were being awaited with keen interest here. Reports showed some of the strikers were obeying orders of their international chiefs and were returning to work. Mr. Hines, in a statement addressed to "public officers, railroad officers and employers and citizens," in California, Arizona and Nevada, served notice that all striking employees who failed to return to work by 7 o'clock Saturday morning would find their places filled and that "anyone who interfered with or impeded the use of railroad property would be prosecuted for having committed an offense against the United States. His action was considered the most drastic ever taken by a government agency in dealing with a labor situation. It followed an announcement by the chiefs of the four principle brotherhoods that unless the illegal strike was terminated the brotherhoods would assist the railroad administration in operating the lines affected. STRIKE CONTINUES. ASHTABULA, O., August 29.—Carmen employed by the Ashtabula Rapid Transit company were still out this morning, and there was little prospect of an immediate settlement. The strike was due to the failure of L. A. Robinson, president of the board of directors of the A. R. T., to sign a contract agreed on by the men and General Manager R. L. Hughes early in the week, whereby the men were to get a maximum wage of 45 cents an hour. Mr. Hughes stated this morning that Mr. Robinson had been unexpectedly called to New York and inability to

LABOR FEDERATION EXECUTIVES WILL NOT ENDORSE STRIKE OF RAILWAY SHOPMEN THREATENED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Labor unrest over the country was the subject of further conferences today between President Samuel Gompers and the members of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor. After these conferences Mr. Gompers was to discuss the general situation with President Wilson at the White House. Matters understood to have been considered today by the labor officials included the threatened strike of steel workers and demands of railroad employees for increased wages unless living costs are reduced.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—The threatened strike of 500,000 shopmen, which would paralyze the railroads of the country and checkmate the efforts of the government to battle down the high cost of living, will not be sanctioned by the American Federation of Labor and was characterized by executive officials of the shopmen's unions as a "fatal mistake." With the assembly here this morning of the executive council of the federation headed by Samuel Gompers, president, to confer on the industrial crisis in the nation and the part that organized labor is to take in economic readjustment of business, immediate action was taken to check the wave of strike sentiment among railroad workers. Soon after President Gompers and his associates of the federation had conferred with officials of the railway employees' department, a circular letter signed by the executive officers of the railway shop workers' unions, was sent to the local unions throughout the country, counseling against a strike to force a 25 per cent. increase in wage. The workers were told in emphatic terms that a strike under present conditions would appear to every right thinking man as detrimental to the organization which had needed 30 years of untiring effort to upbuild. This appeal was the outstanding development of the first day's big labor conference, and although no official statements were forthcoming from President Gompers and other executive officers of the federation, it was clearly indicated that organized labor leaders are going to give the administration a chance to stabilize industrial conditions and get living conditions started on the road to normal before they will endorse strikes in vital industries. The letter to the workers enclosed the letter written by Director General Hines to A. O. Wharton, chairman of the board of railroad wages and working conditions, notifying him that the policy of the government at this time would be against granting any general increases to railroad workers.

ONCE ACCUSED AS AN ASSASSIN, IS NOW PRESIDENT OF BOSNIA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) SARAJEVO, Aug. 29.—One of the men who were arrested by Austrian authorities after the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand in 1911, is now president of the Provincial government of Bosnia-Herzegovina and is recognized as one of the leaders in the new kingdom of Jugoslavia. He is Atanasij Shola. He was kept in prison at hard labor during the war. Today, in his office, in what was formerly a part of an Austrian palace, Mr. Shola described his years in prison and subsequent rise to power. He is a Herzegovinian, forty-two years old and considered to be a man of exceptional ability. "One hundred and fifty-six of us were placed under arrest in July, 1914," he said. "There was no proof that I was in sympathy with the Jugoslav propaganda, but the authorities suspected that was my heart. Sixteen of the men arrested at that time were condemned to death. The death penalties were never executed, because of the remonstrance by the King of Spain, but the prison sentences were all made effective. "I went to prison on July 26, 1911. My cell was a small one—a mere cage, and I was kept at hard labor. In October of 1918, the people of Bosnia-Herzegovina, as in other Jugoslav provinces of the Austrian empire, anticipated the debacle of the Council for the conduct of affairs. As soon as the Austrian army fled this council came into full executive power and the men wrongly imprisoned were liberated. I was released from prison on November 1, 1918, and almost immediately was chosen by the National Council as president of the government of Bosnia-Herzegovina. "He said that the people generally were in sympathy with the central Jugoslav government at Belgrade.

Pugilist Dies As Result of Knockout Blow

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 29.—Frank Heffling, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a prize fighter, died in the city hospital here today as the result of injuries sustained in a prize fight last night. His opponent, K. O. Cincus, of Pittsburgh, was held without bail. Sam Lewis, the referee, was held in $1,000 bail. Cincus landed a right short hook which caught Heffling square on the jaw in the eighth round and felled him. Referee Lewis counted ten and the spectators thought Heffling had merely been knocked out. Heffling was leading the first six rounds.

RETURNED SOLDIER IS FOUND LIFELESS

JOSEPH G. DIMOND, LIMA HERO, WHO WAS GASSED OVER THERE

Dies During Night and is Found In Greery on N. Main Street

WAS IN POOR HEALTH

Had Been Overseas 14 Months and Exertions Has Been Strenuous

The many friends of Joseph G. Dimond, well known Lima young man and a returned soldier, were shocked to learn of his death which occurred sometime Thursday night. For some time he has been working for Messrs Kemp and O'Boyle, 151 North Main street, and went there late last night evidently becoming ill during the night. When the proprietor came to open the store this morning they found him dead.

Coroner Adams was called to the scene, and is holding a postmortem examination this afternoon to determine the cause of his death. Mr. Dimond was gassed while overseas, and had been in poor health since

LIMA LADY ALMOST FELL DOWN STAIRS ON TWO OCCASIONS

Suffered from vertigo, dizzy spells, and a general aching liver. Had to support her back with a pillow on account of backache.

Now declares her troubles are relieved since taking the new medicine, Dreo.

"I suffered so from dizzy spells and vertigo that I almost fell down stairs on two occasions. My back ached so bad that I had to prop a pillow or cushion against it when I sat down," are the words of a well known lady—Mrs. S. D. Campbell, of 206 North Elizabeth street, Lima, Ohio.

"Several of my friends were so highly pleased with Dreo, they persuaded me to take it, and I honestly believe it has been my salvation. I feel like an entirely different person. I lost my appetite and began to get into a highly nervous condition, and got so I didn't even want to look at anything to eat, for the smell and even the sight of cooking made me sick. To get a good night's rest was simply out of the question, and I would be awake and roll and toss until morning, and then would feel more tired than when I went to bed the night before. I managed to keep on my feet, but many a day it would have felt good to have gone to bed. I was almost a nervous wreck without energy or strength. Sometimes I felt as though I would as soon be dead as alive. As I have said, several of my friends kept after me to try Dreo, so I finally consented, and I honestly think it was the only thing that saved me. I am feeling strong and well again and sleep like a rock, and can hardly get enough to eat. My nervousness has entirely disappeared; also the constipation. Dreo is a wonderful medicine and every one should know about it."

Dreo, the new herbal system tonic, tones up and strengthens the nervous system; invigorates the entire body; removes all impurities from the blood; restores energy and vitality; tones up the digestive organs; puts the stomach in good condition; stimulates the sluggish liver; strengthens the kidneys; and soothes throat voices.

Mr. Stout, the well known Dreo expert has headquarters at Baldwin's Central Drug Store, to meet the local public and explain the merits of this great remedy. See him today.

Books Seized by Prosecutors in Food Probing

CLEVELAND, August 29.—Books and records of the A. C. Blair company and the Bigelow Fruit company were seized today by assistant county prosecutors deputized as special deputies following their alleged refusal to turn them over for inspection by the special grand jury. Three officials of the Bigelow company are under indictment by the grand jury.

Deciphering of telegrams, alleged to have been used to fix prices on meats, was in progress when the deputies rushed in automobiles to the office of the fruit companies for their records.

Radical amendments to the Smith food storage law were urged today by Stephen M. Young, assistant county prosecutor, who charges that vitally imperative features have been omitted. He urged that it should be strengthened to check the boosting of prices.

HOOVER BACK FROM CENTRAL EUROPE

Members of Party Describe Misery There; Deplore Roumania's Action

PARIS, Aug. 29.—With their hearts aching from the pathetic sights in central Europe—Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland—Herbert C. Hoover's party returned to Paris last night, more than ever determined to get the fullest co-operation from the United States for the relief of the peoples whose future is dimmed by unspeakable misery.

"My heart aches at what I have seen," declared a member of the party tonight. "There was one strange note of relief in the pathos, namely, the childlike faith those peoples have in the United States."

"Wherever we went our train of automobiles was greeted enthusiastically by great crowds, loudly acclaiming how much they felt in debt to the United States and shouting 'Our Saviors!'"

"The dominant note everywhere was one of eagerness to let us know how much they appreciated the American effort in their behalf. Everywhere we went the people said: 'Don't let the Americans go; they must stay always.'"

Roumania's action toward Hungary and the presence at Budapest of Archduke Joseph has had a disheartening effect throughout central Europe, according to the Hoover party. Especially in Czechoslovakia and Poland, where the people had been celebrating the advent of freedom and democracy, the high-handed procedure of Roumania and the apparent immunity with which the Roumanians were allowed by the peace conference to pursue their course of force, installed a new dread in the people's hearts. They feared the death of their young democracies.

"All central Europe is stupefied, frightened and blighted by Roumania's actions," one member of the party put it. Another said:

"The Poles are just like children in forming a democratic government. It is pathetic to see how they look upon the United States as the only country which knows how to form a democracy and preserve it. Everywhere you feel the effect of what American soldiers have said to the European comrades in arms: 'Oh, you ought to be in America, conditions there could never be like this.'"

The American flag is everywhere. Many thousands of people in central Europe have relatives in America, who have told or written them about the freedom there and have spread the gospel of Americanism.

Poland, according to the returned Americans, will have a bumper crop, but the country is stripped of agricultural instruments. Women are cutting the wheat with sickles. No one seems to know how they manage to do the threshing without proper threshing machines.

AVIATION RESERVE UNIT AT CLEVELAND

More Than 150 Men Who Saw Service in Allied Forces Back of Movement

CLEVELAND, August 29.—This city is to have United States aviation reserve unit No. 1, the first of a score of similar units to be located throughout the country, according to present indications.

The Cleveland Aviation club, made up of more than 150 men who saw service with the American and allied flying forces, is behind the movement to bring the unit here, and according to Rex L. Uden, secretary, the club is confident of success.

Five members have already purchased flying machines through the club for early deliveries. Three airplanes and the other hydroplanes. The reserve unit is to be organized along strictly military lines, with officers holding reserve commissions and more ready to enter the combat work without delay. Fifty per cent of the club's personnel are men with overseas experience, and in the membership are enough to make up any type of organization desired. The club also includes many experienced balloonists.

Among the members are five "aces," including Lieut. D. S. Ingalls, the only naval "ace" of the war. Other aces of the club are Lieut. Frederick E. Luff, Lieut. Archie Buchanan, Thomas Herbert and Lieut. George M. Coney.

Lieuts. Luff, Buchanan and Herbert won decorations while serving with the British flying corps.

JAPANESE SCHOOLS TO BE REMODELED

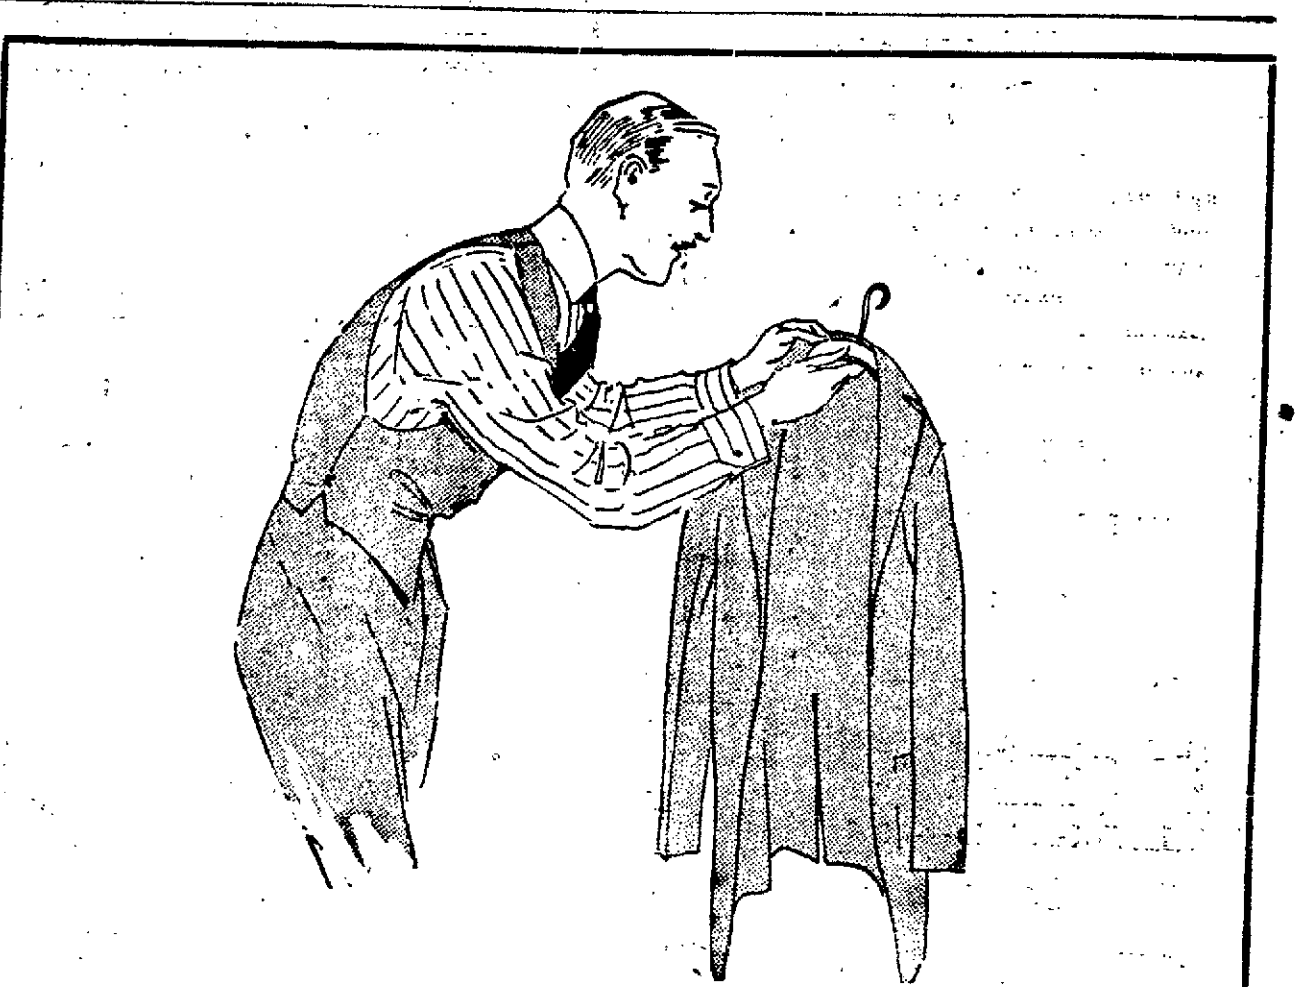

American Ideals to Be Inculcated While Studying Their Own Language

HONOLULU, T. H., August 29.—Reforms in the Japanese language school system of Hawaii were decided upon here at a conference of 45 teachers. The Japanese educators plan to Americanize the schools and to stress the work of including American ideals in their pupils while retaining the privilege of studying their language and culture.

The establishment of a normal school for Japanese teachers, with board, who made an inspection of at least a part of the staff to be composed of Americans, is to be taken up immediately. It was unanimously determined that more attention must be paid in the Japanese schools to the teaching of American history, fund, ideals and customs and the English language.

The issue was clearly presented to the teachers by R. Moroi, Japanese consul general, who declared that if the Japanese are to retain their privilege of teaching the Japanese language, they will have to do it in such a way as to satisfy Americans in Hawaii. He said the Japanese schools could be so maintained that there would be no fear of disloyalty in the United States, and that the schools must be so conducted.

STATE FAIR CROWDS RECORD BREAKERS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 29.—Large crowds were on hand early for the closing of the Ohio State Fair today. Yesterday was a record breaking day, fair officials estimating the crowd at approximately 85,000.

Thirty thousand people witnessed the "Chateau Thierry battle" spectacle last night according to Secretary N. E. Shaw. Receipts from all sources are expected to reach $114,000 this year as against $100,000 for 1918.

GERMAN POLICE DOG WILL OVERRUN U. S.

Soldiers and Marines from District Bring Great Assortment of Canines

PARIS, Aug. 29.—America will be overrun with German police dogs if the dog-catchers at the ports in the United States where the returning troops land do not put an embargo on the German product.

All the soldiers and marines from the Rhine districts bring police dogs to Paris. Officers, doughboys and girl workers with the arm read them through the Paris streets. The American troops bring passing through Belgium and Luxembourg on their way to French ports, all carry a great assortment of the German canines.

Red Cross workers, Young Men's Christian association workers and members of the Young Women's Christian association have been won over by the German police dogs and are taking them back to America. Most of the canines have pedigrees showing that their grandfather was a wolf. They are all grey, about the size of a shepherd dog, with the pointed nose and sharp erect ears of a wolf.

STATE FAIR CROWDS RECORD BREAKERS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 29.—Large crowds were on hand early for the closing of the Ohio State Fair today. Yesterday was a record breaking day, fair officials estimating the crowd at approximately 85,000.

Thirty thousand people witnessed the "Chateau Thierry battle" spectacle last night according to Secretary N. E. Shaw. Receipts from all sources are expected to reach $114,000 this year as against $100,000 for 1918.

Members of the state emergency ant-Governor Clarence J. Brown is backing a movement among republican leaders to bring to Columbus in 1920 the republican national convention.

With the new coliseum at the state fair grounds, Lieutenant-Governor Brown says Columbus is well prepared to handle the convention. He has put the suggestion up to the local chamber of commerce and the Columbus convention and publicity appeared with cash and liberty bonds valued at $4,000.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

THERE ARE two hundred and sixty lawyers in the present congress, which isn't a record; there have been a greater number in other congresses. But there are nineteen editors and publishers, which is a greater number than has previously been elected to any one congress. Only eleven farmers are members of the body, and six labor union leaders.

The bankers are well represented, eighteen of the members giving that as their occupation when at home. Ten merchants found their way into the body, and four insurance men were elected last November. There are three locomotive engineers, four newspaper reporters, two iron molders, a tree surgeon, three lumbermen, a nurseryman, a miller, a cowboy, a cartoonist and a dentist. Then, the school teachers have four members, the shipping industry two, and the orange growers one. There is one clergyman, one advertising agent, and two automobile manufacturers.

But what we started out to say is that there are more than forty members of congress who do not give any profession or occupation in their biographies. They may be set down as "just people," according to their own stories; at least there is no other way of noting what they did for a living before they got into politics. There used to be one real honest member of congress who gave his occupation as a politician, but he seems to have been left at home, which is not to say that there are not still honest men in the body.

But it is a representative body; that is the point. Men from all walks of life; men schooled in experience in many callings, each selected by a majority or a plurality of the citizens of his district. It is our congress and it represents us, good, bad or indifferent, as we may be.

Automobile Prospects

THE AUTOMOBILE people, meaning thereby the people who make and sell cars, have figured all out. They know down to the last individual just who is a prospect and who is not. That is, they understand the buying capacity of the American people, they know the incomes of the citizens of this country, and they can figure accordingly just about how many automobiles ought to be sold within the next twelve months.

To illustrate, we are advised that there are fifteen million people in the nation whose income will enable them to purchase cars, of some kind. One-half of these people, approximately, can not be expected to purchase cars costing more than five hundred dollars. Three million are prospects for cars costing seven hundred to a thousand dollars. Another two million might be induced to purchase cars up to fourteen hundred dollars or thereabouts. A hundred thousand or so of our people need not consider the cost of a car at all; they can buy any priced car they desire.

At this time there is said to be a shortage of a million cars, all classes included. That is, a million people are ready and willing to buy cars if they could obtain the kind they desire. Naturally, a large majority of these cars are of the cheaper variety, but there is said to be a shortage of practically all priced cars.

As for the prospect of cars declining in price, it must be stated that there is nothing in evidence to indicate prices will be reduced. Material and labor are not declining, and there is no reason to believe that either will decline enough to materially reduce the cost of a car. But by reason of the improvements made in the machines, and the ironing out of mechanical difficulties, the upkeep of cars is constantly decreasing. With every decline in the upkeep additional prospective car owners come into view.

The Complaint of the Waiters

THE WAITERS in several hotels in several cities are complaining. They are striking and threatening to strike, and causing uneasiness to the landlords. They can not live, they say, upon present wages—a common enough complaint these days—and their tips do not amount to anything at this time. At the bottom of the trouble is prohibition.

Diners are not so liberal with tips as formerly. There was generosity in the bottle of wine—or lack of discretion, whichever you want to call it. The fellow who used an artificial stimulant, or who became unduly sociable over the glass, was reckless with his money, to the delight of the waiter. But all of that has gone—never to return. The waiters say they no longer receive generous tips, and must therefore have increased wages.

But whatever our interest in this group of deserving working people, their complaint ought to be a matter of rejoicing. It shows as nothing else could one of the greatest evils of liquor. Their complaint is proof positive that under its influence men lost their sense of values, and became reckless with their earnings beyond what is for the best. If the truth were known, many a man who was in the habit of giving unduly large tips to the waiter, after a few cocktails, did so at the expense of his wife and children. Nobody will dispute the fact that the waiter is entitled to reasonable pay for the service which he renders, but the wives and children will insist upon the landlord paying the wage rather than returning to the days of old when the bibulous husband scattered his wealth regardless of the services rendered therefor.

HAPPY THOUGHT: September's just around the corner.

You may have your own opinion as to the reliability of circumstantial evidence, but if you have a typist that is fair to look upon and your wife knows it, don't carelessly appear at home with an invisible hair net hanging to the top button of your coat.

We heard a man define an Optimist the other day as one who takes all the lemons handed to him every day and makes lemonade out of them.

GOOD EVENING—Many a good wife may get the straits forever these days and refuse to cook hubby his 60c bacon and 50c eggs unless he raises her salary.

The Times' Family Doctor

HOW YOU MAY PREVENT THE WRINKLES DUE TO HEADACHES

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

If you suffer from headaches, you may also be apt to have a wrinkled face. Lines which develop upon the face as a result of headaches may be smoothed out by the regular use of cold cream. Apply the cold cream in massage form as soon as you suspect a systematic recurrence of pains in the head. The application of the cream is not intended to relieve the pain, but to prevent the skin from feeling the strain that usually comes from frowning and squinting.

Every time you contract your eyebrows in frowning you cause a furrow to form there. If you continue this for a long period of time the lines deepen and the same thing happens in the regions of the eyes and at the bridge of the nose when you squint or scowl. The ultimate result of this form of strain is muscle tension and permanent wrinkled skin.

In order to prevent crow's feet and premature old age, the cold cream method is worth at least a trial. Use a basin of hot water and two pieces of soft white flannel. Keep the vessel of water on the stove during the process if you can conveniently do so. If you can arrange this on a stand by the couch or bed it is well to do it.

Rub the face about the forehead and the corners of the eyes thickly with cold cream. Massage the cream with the tips of the fingers into the pores of the skin. Since the hot water will remove the most of the cream you put on, it is well to rub firmly with the tips of the fingers, so that the grease shall be driven deep into the pores.

Once this is done, one cloth is wrung from water that should be as hot as the skin can endure, and is folded and quickly laid over the upper part of the face and covered with a soft towel to help hold in the heat. If this is done for a time until the cloth removed as the first heat comes cool the heat will reduce the pain. In any event the skin receives a gentle steaming that prevents it from becoming drawn. It is not necessary to continue the application indefinitely. After 15 or 20 minutes the treatment may be stopped, not to be resumed for a couple of hours. The entire purpose of this treatment is to prevent the muscle from becoming unduly tense.

If the pain passes away during the day the face should be well soaked for a time in cold water to act as an astringent after the softening process.

Great care must be exercised not to be near an open window or in any kind of draught. When the pores of the face are open and the skin is hot because of the applications, a sudden draught may cause neuralgia in the jaws and teeth, besides a general inflammation of the nose and throat. This would be due to the sudden cooling effect of the air on a heated skin.

It is wise, moreover, not to leave the house after you have applied the hot towels or cloths and the cold cream. It is fairly evident that the same unnecessary pain is apt to be caused by the sudden contact of the cold air outdoors with the open pores of the skin as is caused by a draught in the room. If these possibilities can be avoided the use of the cold cream massage may be found very profitable.

Answers to Health Questions.

MARY. Q.—What can I do for indigestion?

A.—Of the dozen different stomach disorders non-medical persons may call one of them "indigestion." However, that does not make it so. The real disorder is to be sought for by an analysis of the digestive juices and of a test of meals. Consult your family physician.

F. B. Q.—What can I do for sleeplessness?

A.—Sleeplessness has its foundation in loss of general health, worry, bad habits, need of ventilation and sunlight. Retire early at night, even if you cannot sleep. This restores the normal habit. This requires a glassful of hot milk, a few crackers and a hot bath before you retire. A cold pillow and a hot foot bag helps. Take a triple effervescent bromide tablet or two in a glassful of water just before bedtime. Keep away from drugs.

JANE. Q.—How can I reduce my weight?

A.—You must not get more than eight hours' sleep out of the 24. You must keep the intestines open and active, and get daily outdoor exercise. You should reduce the amount of sugars, starches and oils which are taken into the body. Food laxatives, such as uncooked bran and green vegetables, help in the reduction process. Drink lots of water only between times, but do not drink any with your meals. You must not partake of alcoholic beverages of any kind at any time. Do not eat any bread, except gluten, and it is better to have this toasted.

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

TREASURY TITLES IN NORTHWESTERN OHIO

Lying at remote points from each other in the northwestern part of the state, are considerable tracts of land, a study of the title to which carries the abstractor back to the interesting historical fact that they were vested in the original private owners, by treaty; that they passed by such agreement between the old Indian claimants and the United States government into the hands of certain private parties in consideration of valuable services rendered or hardships endured in the war of 1812.

By the treaty signed by the representatives of the United States and several Indian tribes at the Falls of the Maumee river, September 29, 1817, ten such principal grants of lands out of the tract which the Indians were surrendering, passed in this manner, the aggregate area of the lands so going into private ownership being 9450 acres. These ten grantees and the acreage secured by each were as follows:

James McPherson, 640 acres; Nancy Stewart, 480; John Van Meter, 1,000; John R. Walker, 1280; Robert Armstrong, 640; William McCullough, 640; William Spicer, 640; Elizabeth Whitaker, 1260; Isaac Williams, 160; and Peter Minor 340.

The considerations upon which the grants were made are various, but the case of John R. Walker is fairly typical. He was the son of Catherine Walker, a Wyandot woman. At the battle of Marquette near Detroit, August 1812, while serving in the U. S. army under Colonel Miller, the latter being attacked by the British under General Proctor and Indians under Tecumseh, he was badly wounded. For this service and because she was a Wyandot woman both he and his mother were given a section of land—their two sections adjoining.

This land lies in what is now Seneca county, on both sides of the Sandusky river. There seems to have been a disposition on the part of the government to take care of all who had aided in, or suffered by the war of 1812, still fresh in memory, and were then located in the territory secured by grants immediately out of it.

OUR BED-TIME STORY

FOR TINY TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

I guess you thought something might happen to Jack and Jane and their friends down in the mine, where we left them yesterday. Well, nothing happened. They watched the miners at work for a long time. Every one of the men who came near enough to Jack and Jane to see them in the dim light of the lanterns smiled at them and most of the men said, "Hello, little folks, aren't you lost?"

The children wondered how the men could be so happy, working all day in the dark, damp mine. "My, along the sides of the hills around the mine. The little places looked more like sheds than houses, thought the children. They walked up to the houses and peeked into one. Through the open door they saw two small children playing on the floor and, sitting in a high-chair, poking its chubby feet into its mouth, was a tiny baby.

Ladydear looked about to find the mother, but she was nowhere to be seen.

"She probably had to leave the little ones all alone while she carried some lunch to their father at the mine," said the captain. The children noticed that the coal dust had settled all over the inside of the house and even the baby's face was smeared with it.

As Jack and Jane walked away, Jane said to Ladydear:

"After this when we're using coal back home in Make-Believe town to keep us warm or cook good things, I'm going to think of the miners and their little children. I won't mind nasty days so much and I'll wish that these boys and girls could have as many nice things as Jack and I have."

"And so will I," said Jack. The thoughtfulness of the two children made Ladydear happy.

"I was wondering if my little folks knew how well they were taken care of back home and how much cause they had to be very happy and gay," she said. But, really truly, she hadn't been wondering at all, because Jack and Jane had shown all the time during the trip that they realized how lucky they were in many ways.

The children and their friends spent that night in a village in the mining district and bright and early the next day started for Scotland. (Copyright, 1919.)

NATIONAL Paramount Artcraft WEEK

You may not fully understand what Paramount-Artcraft Week means from the written explanation, but you surely will WHEN YOU SEE THE STORY THAT THE SCREEN TELLS during Paramount-Artcraft week. STARTS NEXT SUNDAY

Waynesfield, Ohio.

Aug. 29, 1919.

Dear John: People ought to know by the feel of a new pair of shoes whether they fit or not, but Mr. Frankle the Optometrist at Hughes and Son, says that it takes a skilled Optometrist to tell whether a new pair of glasses will fit or not and I know he is right, folks should take my advice and go to him for their glasses.

Yours,

Mary.

POSTAL CLERKS TELL WHY SERVICE IS POOR

Too Many Inexperienced Men Employed and Cite Many Other Reasons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Complaint that the policy of the post department under Postmaster General Burleson had resulted in practically a breakdown of the service, and that "it can not function much longer at the rate it is going," was made yesterday before the house committee on postoffice expenditures by officers of postal employees' organizations.

Remedies advocated by these were better wages, reduction of night and overtime work, elimination of excessive Sunday and holiday work and a creation of an impartial body to consider complaints and suggestions of the employees.

After hearing the officers, Representative Zihlman, Maryland, committee chairman announced that the testimony would mark the beginning of a general inquiry into the department and its expenditures, which would continue intermittently for several weeks.

The employees' representatives asserted that the service at present was undermined, that working conditions were unsatisfactory, that in many cities inexperienced men were "picked up" on the streets to be used as carriers, that part-time employees, without training were employed for sorting mail, that present system did not permit expeditious transmission of mails, and that unrest among employees was increasing.

Postmaster General Burleson's colored coachman and his Chinese cook are among overtime employees in the Washington postoffice, Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary-treasurer of the National Federation of Postal Employees, told the committee.

RADICAL CHANGES IN MINING SOUGHT

Leader Says Six-Hour Day With Nationalization of Mines Considered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Congressional leaders now believe the gathering of union coal miners in Cleveland Sept. 9 is destined to be a labor session of epochal importance to the country.

There was an awakening here today for the first time to the full possibilities bound in the Cleveland meeting. Yesterday and today the senate committee investigating the coal situation was informed that the decisions of the Cleveland meeting would determine whether the country immediately was to face a crisis even more serious in its economic possibilities than that involved in a threatened railway strike.

Congress was informed that the question of nationalization of coal mines was only one phase of the situation as it would develop at the Cleveland convention. Emphasis was laid on the fact that for the first time in the history of the coal industry the question of wages and working conditions throughout the entire country would be considered at one time.

Hitherto these questions have been handled by districts. There might be differences of opinion in one district, it was explained, which would not involve conditions in another district. Accordingly there never was a time, it was explained, when a complete cleanup of the coal industry of the country was possible.

The senate coal investigation will extend well beyond the time of the Cleveland convention. It now seems certain that leading miners' officials who will participate in the Cleveland convention will be called before the committee.

The committee as it is now planned, will seek all the information it can obtain for the purpose of giving the public as much protection as possible in a situation that presents the chance of great suffering throughout the country next winter.

Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt has filed suit for divorce in Newport, R. I., alleging desertion for the past five years. Newport society understands that Mr. Vanderbilt will not contest the action and that no alimony will be asked. Mrs. Vanderbilt asks custody of their only child, Cathleen, now in her sixth year. Mr. Vanderbilt, youngest son of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, inherited a share of his father's estate, estimated at $10,000,000. Later he received $5,000,000 by the will of his brother, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who perished on the Lusitania. Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Cathleen Gebhard Neilson, daughter of Mrs. Frederick H. Neilson.

FIGHTERS FINED

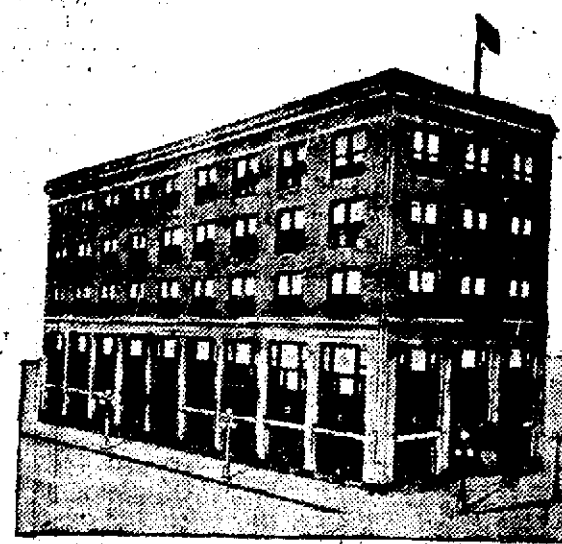

Yesterday afternoon, William Jerwin, 45, was arraigned in police court on a disorderly charge preferred by L. A. Anton, 37, 953 Reese avenue, who averred Jerwin struck him. Jerwin was fined $15. This morning it was just vice versa, and Anton was given a fine of the same denomination.

TWO OHIO MEN KILLED

SHAWNEE, O., Aug. 29.—Frank Neft, 18 years old, and Charles Shaw, 26 years old, were killed early today at Bessie Furnace, New Straitsville. Shaw leaves his widow and one child. The men were killed when riding in an elevator cage.

LANGUAGE WISER THAN PEOPLE WHO USE IT

Coleridge Likens System of Words to An Armory Full of Trophies

"Language is the armory of the human mind, and at once contains the trophies of the past, and the weapons of its future conquests." Thus wrote Coleridge a veritable master of language.

Another learned scholar says that a language will often be wiser, not merely than the ignorant, but even than the wisest who speak it. He likens it to amber in its efficacy to circulate the electric spirit of truth, like amber also in embalming and preserving the relics of ancient wisdom, although one is often puzzled to decipher its contents. Sometimes, too, it locks up truths which were once well known, but which, in the course of ages, have passed out of sight and been forgotten. Again, it holds the germs of truths, of which the genius of its framers caught a glimpse in a happy moment of inspiration. This is why language is so important in every age and to every person.

A dictionary being the best instrument with which to study language, thus acquiring new words, and better understanding of old ones, would seem to be a necessity to anyone desiring to improve himself. In this day of fierce competition words can literally be coined into dollars. We thus consider our offer of The New Universities Dictionary as a genuine boon to our readers. Our coupon offer elsewhere in today's Lima Times shows how to acquire it almost free.

BOUND OVER TO COURT

L. W. Richards, 75, and Clifford Black, 34, two marry-go-round operators at McCullough's Park, who were arrested on a charge of having stolen thrift stamps and bonds to the value of $245 from Carl Range, Kenton farmer, were arraigned in police court. They were bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bonds.

JUDGE DISCHARGES TWO BOY SLAYERS

One Lad Killed Comrade in Play; Another Shot
Mother

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Two boys, one 7 and the other 13, were brought to the bar of the children's court in Brooklyn. The first was charged with the death of an eight year old playmate, whose life was taken in a game of "cowboy and indian." The other had to answer for killing his mother in playing with a loaded revolver.

Justice Charles J. Dodd, displaying almost as much emotion as the youthful prisoners, dismissed them from custody.

The younger of the boys was the first arraigned. Playing with another lad Thursday week he loosed a shaft made of an old umbrella rim at the make-believe cowboy. The steel entered the lad's brain through an eye. He died Monday.

Mother Intercedes for Boy
As the chubby faced boy was led forward by Detective Peter Thornton, a woman clad in black left her seat and made her way to the rail. She was the mother of the slain child. She said:

"Judge, I wish you would let this boy go free. I wish to make no complaint against him. I have four children, and I realize that it might have been my own child's fate to be in the position that this child is now. I bear nothing but sorrow for his predicament."

"You have taken a generous and, I think, proper view of this matter. Your little boy is better off than the boy here, because when he grows old enough to realize"—the voice of the judge broke.

"May he never realize," answered the bereaved mother.

A few minutes after the disposition of this case, a thirteen-year-old lad was called before the justice. He shook with sobs as the court asked him if he had killed his mother.

"I pointed the revolver and pulled the trigger, judge, but it was just in play. I thought the gun was empty."

The lad cried bitterly as the scene in his home June 30 was recalled to his mind.

"I pity you," said the court. "You may go home."

DEMANDS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS

Warren S. Stone

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Locomotive Engineers, has just called on President Wilson to ask aid in reducing the high cost of living by advocating the government ownership of all railroads.

LAST HOLIDAY FOR RETAIL STORES

Clerks in Lima stores enjoyed their last half holiday for this season, Thursday afternoon. The agreement among the merchants who inaugurated the movement was to close on all Thursday afternoons during July and August. The arrangement has proved very satisfactory to merchants as well as employees, who have thoroughly enjoyed the half holiday from business cares each week, and the public has accommodated itself readily to the new arrangement.

That substance as inflammable as oil waste and cotton can be ignited by sparks developed from radio telegraphy has been demonstrated by a French scientist.

PEOPLE OF NORTH RUSSIA ASK MORE AID FROM ALLIES

Urgent Appeal Made to President Wilson Not to Desert Them

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Further assistance for the people of North Russia against the Bolsheviks is asked in a cablegram to President Wilson by representatives of the people of that region, assembled at Archangel.

After drawing a dark picture of the Bolshevik regime, which is charged with having throttled the people's will, introduced an autocratic regime of terror and bloodshed and sold out Russia, "to German and neutral bankers," the message points out that insurrections have occurred against the soviet government in different parts of central Russia, where the Bolsheviks still hold sway and continues:

"Our native north was one of the first to rise. During the unequal armed struggle your troops arrived with words of encouragement and with promises of brotherly assistance. We believed you. We agreed unconditionally to the establishment here of a front against Germany and her allies, the Bolsheviks. We believed that the work once begun would be carried on to the end. We had no reason to disbelieve the honorable words of our allies. Our loyalty and the millions of lives given by Russia in your victorious cause was our guarantee."

Army's Moral Weak
"We were mistaken. You are recalling those eight or ten thousand men, of whom half are volunteers, who came to our assistance in the name of humanity. Our army, young and small in numbers, has not yet regained its moral strength after five years of incredible trials, and without support will lose the strength of will to defend its homes."

GO BY AIRPLANE

DAYTON, Aug. 29.—To attend the Ohio State Fair Colonel E. A. Deeds, wealthy Dayton manufacturer and member of the aircraft board during the war and Mrs. Deeds will fly to Columbus today, leaving Dayton at 11 o'clock. Colonel Deeds will be piloted by Howard Finelhart and Mrs. Deeds will have Bernard Whalen as her air chauffeur. Both will use the De Havilland Four airplanes. They expect to make the trip in about 25 minutes.

TODAY—"Don Quixote," by Cervantes
TOMORROW—"Paul and Virginia" by Saint-Pierre.

CERVANTES

Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, dramatist and novelist, was born in 1547, the son of a Spanish druggist and surgeon. He died in Madrid in 1616, 10 days before Shakespeare's death.

As a youth, Cervantes went to Italy, where he served as a private in the army. In a naval battle off Greece he was thrice wounded, his right hand being permanently maimed. While returning to Spain he was captured by pirates and taken to Algiers, where he was held as a slave for five years.

After his ransom he wrote many plays. They brought him more fame than fortune, and he added to his responsibilities by wedding, at the age of 37, a girl of 19. It was evidently a marriage of love, as her dowry consisted only of "five vines, an orchard, some household furniture, four beehives, 45 hens and chickens, one cock and a crucible."

As he could not live by his pen, Cervantes secured a minor government position; but he was in constant difficulties because of pressing debts and his unbusinesslike habits. He was thrown into prison for debt; released, he sank into neglect and poverty.

Part of "Don Quixote" was probably written just this novel, a masterpiece that reflects nobles and taken wenchos, barbers and ladies of high degree, all the varied life of a brilliant period, is considered by many to be the world's greatest humorous masterpiece. The wonder of it is that it was written by a man, nearing his 60th year, who had all his life been poor, who had known little except misfortune. "Children turn their backs, young people read it, grown men understand it, old folks praise it."

"DON QUIXOTE"

By MIGUEL DE CERVANTES
(Condensation by Nathan Haskell Dole)

In the sixteenth century romances of chivalry, written in absurd, exaggerated style were extremely popular in Spain.

A dignified gentle man by the name of Quixada, who lived between Aragon and Castile, went crazy over these foolish books, which he spent all his substance in buying. His brain was stupefied by enchantments, quarrels, battles, challenges, wounds, magic salves, complaints, armours, torments, giants, castles, captured maidens, gallant rescues, and all sorts of impossible deeds of daring, which seemed to him as true as the most authentic history. Every inn-keeper was a magnum; every mule a cavalier.

He decided that for his own honor and for the service of the world, he must turn knight-errant, and jaunt through the world, redressing wrongs, rescuing captured princesses, and at last winning the imperial sceptre of Triplonda.

He changed his name to Don Quixote de la Mancha, got himself dubbed a knight by a rascally publican, whose inn he thought was a castle with four towers crowned with pinacles of glistening silver. In order to carry a full purse he sold one of his houses, mortgaged another and borrowed a goodly sum from a friend. When his practical housekeeper and his pretty niece, together with his neighbors, the barber and the curate, thought to cure him by burning his books, he was persuaded that his library had been carried away by a necromancer, and became crazier than ever. He scoured up a rusty suit of mail which had belonged to one of his ancestors, mended a broken helmet with a pasteboard visor, patched with thin iron plates, and thus accoutred set forth on his old back Rocinante, whose ribs stuck out like the skeleton of a ship, accompanied by a rustic named Sancho Panza, persuaded into serving him as his squire.

Their departure was a brave spectacle: the tall, cadaverous, lantern-jawed knight, mounted on his bony nag, waving his long lance and carrying his sword, his eyes gleaming with enthusiasm and dreaming of his beautiful mistress, whom he called Dulcinea del Toboso; the short, squat, paunch-bellied, long-haunched servant with a canvas wallet and a leathern bottle, mounted on the diminutive ass, Dapple.

On the plains of Montiel stood a score of big windmills. Don Quixote took them for outrageous giants and prepared to do battle against them, and despite Sancho's protests that their huge arms were only vanes, he plunged the wheels into Rocinante's thin flanks and with couched lance, dashed off to the encounter. The wind blew violently and the knight and his steed were whirled away into the field, where they lay motionless and as if dead; his lance was smashed to splinters. Sancho hastened to the aid of his master and found him unable to stir; but he was soon ready to go on again.

Their next adventure was with two monks, riding on mules as big as dromedaries, in company with a coach in which sat a lady escorted by men on horseback. Don Quixote imagined that the adventurers had captured a princess and in the hightest terms bade them release her. Then without further parley he drove against the monks, one of whom ran away while the other fell off his mule. Sancho nimbly slipped from his ass and began to strip the luckless man; while he was engaged in this legitimate appropriation of the spoils of battle, two muleteers of the train overtook him, tore out his beard by handfuls, mauled him and left him senseless. Don Quixote engaged in a terrific combat with one of the lady's guard who sliced off half his helmet and one of his ears. Undaunted the knight pressed the combat to victory, but just as he was about to give the finishing stroke, the frightened lady begged him to desist and he complied on condition that the defeated opponent should go and present himself before the peerless Dulcinea who was in reality a burrow woman known through all la Mancha for her skill in salt-pick and who had never deigned to look at her amorous neighbor.

A few days later, bruised and battered in untoward adventures, they came upon a flock of sheep which Don Quixote conceived to be a prodigious army composed of an infinite number of nations led by mighty kings. He spurred like a thunderbolt from the top of a hill, shouting his battle-challenge, putting the hapless sheep to flight and trampling both the living and the slain. Impatient to meet the commander of the enemy he shouted:

"Where, where art thou, haughty Alifanfaron?"

At that moment the speherds rallied in defense of their flocks and overwhelmed the unlucky knight first with stones and then with cudgels, leaving him in a desperate case, with nearly all his teeth knocked out or loosened, and his ribs half broken.

Did this adventure discourage him? Not at all. It was all a part of chivalry. He and Sancho rode on in dolorous discourse. They were overtaken by night and had no shelter or food. Suddenly appeared a band of about twenty horsemen, all in white robes, with torches in their hands and followed by a hearse draped in black. It was the funeral of a gentleman of Segovia: Don Quixote took it to be the train of some knight either killed or desperately wounded, and, assured that it was his duty to avenge the misfortunes of a brother-in-arms, halted the cortege and demanded an explanation. The replies of the clergymen failed to satisfy him and he flew at them in high dudgeon. Encumbered by their long robes they became easy victims and all took to flight.

They possessed themselves of the edibles deserted by the clergymen, but unfortunately had nothing to drink, nor did they dare stir from the forest because of the awful clamor made by a fulling-mill which Don Quixote supposed to be enchantment.

The next morning they met a barber trifling on an ass and wearing his brass basin on his head to save his hair from the rain. Don Quixote recognized this as the golden helmet of Mambrino and flew at his enemy as if he would grind him to powder. The barber fled, leaving his helmet which Sancho appropriated, though it seemed to him merely a common dish.

They came to another inn. In the night Don Quixote, while sound asleep and dreaming, enjoyed the most famous battle of his career. Dressed in a short shirt which exposed his lean, long, hairy shanks, and wearing a greasy red nightcap, with a blanket wrapped around his left arm for a shield, he was repeatedly plunging his sword into the plump bodies of several giants. Their blood flowed across the floor in wide, crimson stains.

Imagine the wrath of the worthy inn-keeper at discovering that his famous guest had disembowled all his wine-sacks, which were made of goat skins with the heads left on.

After this Don Quixote got home by the curia and the barber; but he broke loose again. First he visited his Dulcinea, but came away convinced that through enchantment she had been changed into a blubber-cheeked, flat-nosed country wench, the pearls of her eyes into gall-nuts, her long golden locks into a cow's tail and her palace into a hut.

He had adventures with strolling actors and lions; he attended the rich Camacho's wedding; he explored the deep cave of Montesinos; he rode on a magic bark and visited the nameless duke and duchess, through whose complaisance Sancho was granted his ambition to rule over an island and did it with wisdom worthy of Solomon. Many more adventures followed, but at last Don Quixote returned to his home, and recovered his senses on his deathbed, dying as a lovable, high-minded, noble-hearted gentleman.

Cervantes' masterpiece is not all satire. Don Quixote has lucid moments, Sancho's simplicity veils common sense, often expressed in witty proverbs. There is occasional coarseness, but not so much as in Shakespeare. The chief fault is its treatment of insanity. In its author's fondness for cruel and brutal, practical jokes, which may perhaps explain the maintenance of bull-fighting in Spain.

Betty Fairfax's Ready Advice

Chats with the Love-lorn—

—Answers to Missives

Dear Miss Fairfax: Will you kindly print in your columns at your earliest convenience a good recipe for putting away cucumbers in brine or dill for winter use. The kind that makes sour pickles. Also I would like to have a good sweet cucumber pickle recipe.—Grandview Heights.

Ans.—Sour pickles: Place medium sized cucumbers in jars, cover with brine in proportion of one-half cup of salt to two quarts of boiling water. Let stand 24 hours. Drain off brine, scald, then pour again over pickles and let stand a short time. Drain. Scald vinegar, spiced to taste (cinnamon, cloves, allspice, pepper, and mace mustard and celery seed are also used.) Pack in jars and cover with hot vinegar.

Sweet pickles—Wash medium sized cucumbers and leave in salt water 24 hours. The water should be salty enough to float a fresh egg. After removing the pickles from the salt water, weigh them and then put in cold water for 12 hours. Then for every seven pounds of pickles use three pounds of brown sugar and one quart of vinegar. Heat vinegar and sugar to the boiling point, pour over the pickles and to each jar add two bay leaves and a number of tiny red peppers. Pour off vinegar at the end of 24 hours; heat again, pour back on the pickles and close the jars.

Dear Miss Fairfax: (1) Kindly publish a good recipe for "latter cake." No matter how hard I try, mine always turns out more like corn bread than cake. Ans.—Use two eggs, two cups of powdered sugar, one cup of milk, two cups of flour, two scant teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of vanilla. Mix flour and salt and baking powder. Beat egg yolks until thick. Gradually add and beat in the sugar. Add vanilla and milk and whites whipped stiff and flour. Bake in three layer-cake pans in hot oven. Put together with chocolate or other suitable icing.

(2) What is the correct hem for a linen table cloth and napkins. Should I use my initials or my husband's on the table cloth? Ans.—For handsome linen, an inch wide hemstitch hem is good. If you are married use the initial of your married name, of course.

Dear Miss Fairfax: (1) To settle in argument please tell me who played the first husband in "Don't Change Your Husband," also the second husband.

Ans.—Elliott Dexter played the first husband, to whom the wife turned again after her experience with the second husband played by Lewis J. Cody.

(2) What is the age of Mary Pickford, Eugene O'Brien and Douglass Fairbanks?

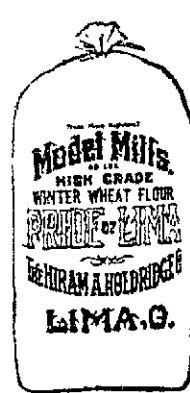

Ans.—Mary was born in 1893, Eugene in 1881 and Douglass in 1883.

(3) Who played the leading part in "The Lone Wolf?" Ans.—Bert Lytell.

Anxious.

It has been estimated that the wires in the cores and sheathing of the world's submarine cables that have been made since they were first used in 1857 would reach from the earth to the moon.

XXII.—A FAMILIAR NAME

Scarcely a day passed but what I saw Captain Frazier. Either he met at some function, or he invited me to motor and tea. Paul's attention to business left me unusually free and Dick Frazier and I even ventured to dine together at the Argonne or some equally fashionable and popular hotel. We knew that gossip was swirling around us, but neither of us cared. The man had nothing to lose and I had plunged recklessly into a sort of temporary infatuation. He was attractive, there was no denying and it flattered me to see the unattached maidens angling for him in vain. For the time being, he was securely tied to my chariot wheel, and I flaunted him in public with a good bit of satisfaction.

Paul and I were being widely entertained as befitting the latest bridal pair, but he could rarely remain at any function throughout the entire evening and it became gradually accepted that Dick Frazier should motor me home and act as escort generally. Even Fran abandoned her pique and gave me the handsome captain for a dinner partner at a dinner dance she gave in compliment to Paul and me. And I think she guessed that the big grey car could sometimes be seen drifting slowly round and round the river park for more than an hour after the Captain and I had made our adieux on any night when he served as escort.

May sped by. Paul became more and more engrossed in his war contracts and man after man left our little group to join a training camp. Martin Fendall had already gone, leaving a quiet, grave-eyed Alice. I was not surprised therefore to find in my mail one morning an invitation from Alice for a luncheon the following week.

Alice Lloyd lived with her aunt and uncle, whose home was, to my mind, the most attractive place in town. The big old fashioned brick house was flanked on one side by a high-walled garden. No product of landscape art there, but a real ante-bellum rose garden with sweet-scented box hedges and a pool where a quaint weather-stained wax swan floated, malefic and aloof. A wide, uncovered veranda overlooked the garden, reached by French windows opening off the drawing room. It was there that luncheon was served on tiny rustic tables.

"It was cruel of you to keep us in suspense so long, Miss Lloyd," declared Mrs. Carlton, as she fingered the tiny engraved announcement coupling the names of the happy couple, which we had found tucked into our corsage bouquets at each cover. "I greatly feared that Mr. Fen-dall and his lovely devotion should have to go to war unrewarded."

"I preferred to withhold the announcement until the wedding was not so far distant," explained Alice, who was as radiant as the June day itself. "We shall be married at Martin's first furlough. I hope you will all come, though the wedding will be very simple. Nell is to be only attendant."

"And Captain Frazier the best man?" suggested Mrs. Carlton softly.

I rose with a rebuking dignity I managed to assume at the frequent and unveiled coupling of our names, and said airily.

"So sorry, but I must run along, Alice. Leone phoned me that she's a new importation of Sheruit models, positively the last until after the war."

"Such a lovely party, Mrs. Lloyd. I told Alice's aunt whom I met in the drawing room. But I regret not seeing more of you."

"I've been a very proud hostess to day, Mrs. Tindall," she said. "We're expecting visitors for the week-end and I've had to see that the guest wing is in order. Perhaps you know them—Major Calloway and his wife and children."

Major Calloway—Bob Calloway, coming to the Loyds. How that name recalled a long-forgotten passage in my youth!

Dorothy Dalton is seen as a woman with an insatiable desire for beautiful gowns and jewelry in her new photoplay, "Extravagance," which is being shown at the Faurot. No play in which she has ever appeared has given this beautiful star such opportunity to display lovely gowns. The character she assumes is Helen Douglas, a woman whose social ambition has led her into the millionaire's circle with the consequent result that she is living and dressing far beyond her husband's means. The situations are dramatic and thrilling.

Thos. H. Ince presents DOROTHY DALTON in "Extravagance"

A Paramount Picture

AT THE FAUROT TONIGHT.

Scenics, the Topical Digest and other added features. Last times tonight.

Tomorrow the Faurot will present Mary Pickford in the new Paramount edition of Mrs. Frances Hodson Burnett's famous story, "The Dawn of a Tomorrow." It is regarded as one of Miss Pickford's most signal screen triumphs.

"Her Man of the NC-4" which comes to the Orpheum tonight and tomorrow matinee and night tells a story of the great northwest and is from the pen of Victor E. Lambert one of the most popular play and magazine writers of the middle west. Mr. Lambert in writing this play his latest success has contrary to the form of late play writers has not resorted to the use of a bedroom scene or a piece of lingerie for the theme of his play.

The scene of the play is laid in the north woods and abounds in rare dialogue enforced by comedy, song and dramatic situations if a play that is to be long remembered.

There is no featured member of the cast each one being a type for his or her part. Matinee 2:30; evening at 8 p. m.

AT THE LYRIC

Every showing of "The Romance of Tarzan" has drawn crowded houses. It will continue today and Saturday.

More startling and spectacular than the original production, of which it presents the concluding chapters, is "The Romance of Tarzan," in the judgment of various critics who have reviewed the new screen version of Edgar Rice Burroughs' fascinating story of primitive life.

"The Romance of Tarzan" has the same cast of players that appeared in "Tarzan of the Apes," together with an even larger troupe of wild animals.

AT THE ORPHEUM

"Her Man of the N. C.—4" which comes to the Orpheum today and tomorrow matinee and night is vastly different than anything that has been attempted in a long time. The scene of the play is laid in an old trading post of the far northern Canadian woods, and the story winds itself beautifully around a young American aviator who is halted in his cross-country flight by the collapse of his aeroplane.

In falling he was injured, being rescued and nursed back to life, by the daughter of a trader, who is striving to rear his daughter among the wilds of nature.

Like all good stories must end—the aviator having met his ideal under such hazardous circumstances falls in love with his rescuer and she is whisked away in his aeroplane.

The cast is an exceptional one and the scenery for this production being a work of art. This is not a moving picture. Matinee Daily at 2:30 evening show at 8 p. m.

AT THE ROYAL

At the Royal today and tomorrow will be offered another star attraction in addition to the five reel Harold Lockwood picture "Human Shuttles." Charles Hutchinson is featured in the great serial story "The Great Gamble" and in the second episode we find all the thrill one could ask for. Jumping from one building across a street to another roof, diving from a height of 200 feet, as well as numerous other seemingly impossible stunts, will no doubt amaze who can secure admission to the Royal today or tomorrow. As many as can should attend in the afternoon to avoid the night crowds. The Harold Lockwood-May Allison feature is of the Western variety with just enough society support to make it both romantic as well as interesting.

CARNEGIE'S WILL GIVES ANNUITIES TO NOTED PERSONS

NEW YORK, August 28. — The will of Andrew Carnegie, made public today, estimates the value of the iron master's estate between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The will leaves the real estate and all the works of art and household goods to Mrs. Carnegie. The financial provision for Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter, Mrs. Miller, was made during Mr. Carnegie's life time. A statement made by Elihu Root, Jr., says that Mr. Carnegie's public gifts and charities during his life time exceeded $350,000,000.

The fourth article of the will contains a series of legacies to charitable institutions, while the fifth article contains annuities to relatives and friends. The Carnegie corporation of New York is the residuary legatee. An annuity of $10,000 is made to former President Taft and annuities of $5,000 each to Mrs. Grover Cleveland, now Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widows of former presidents.

An annuity of $10,000 is made to Premier Lloyd George of England.

Public bequests include Cooper union, New York, $60,000; Pittsburg university, $200,000; relief fund of the Authors' Club of New York, $200,000; Hampton institute, Virginia, $300,000; Stevens institute, Hoboken, N. J., $100,000; St. Andrews society of New York, $100,000.

Of English invention is a machine for harvesting flax that in passing over a field seizes the grain in bunches, digs its roots out of the soil and conveys it to one side by an endless belt.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Carrie F. Fisher, Zanesville, Ohio. "It has been used by myself and husband for cholera morbus and other forms of bowel trouble for the past fifteen years. It never fails to give relief."

ST. MARYS

GET SAD NEWS OF
SISTER IN GERMANY

ST. MARYS, August 29.—Through the efforts of our local Red Cross chapter, Mrs. Sheppard Botkin, of Hendricks street, and F. Carl Lietz, received a letter from their only sister living in Mecklenburgh, Stralitz, Germany.

The letter contained very sad news, telling of three deaths in her family for which the war directly responsible. The letter concluded by saying that they had suffered much and were very sad and forlorn. The letter was written in a beautiful, hand, and nicely worded.

It is the first word that Mrs. Botkin and Mr. Lietz have had from their sister since the beginning of the war.

Two little tots, three and six years old, were one day this week for-ten and left briefly at the east bank of Lake St. Marys' whence their parents drove away in an automobile. Two men and two women, strangers, accompanied by the children, stopped their vehicle near the north-east landing. The children sought amusement at the water edge. They were apparently overlooked by their elders when the latter started away. The motorists traversed half the length of the oak highway when they were reminded their children were absent. They came back at a good rate of speed.

The following are included with the mid-week fair attendants: Wm. Shipman and family who visited at the Chris Moehring residence, Fred Schward, Henry Vogel, Mrs. Tom Sunderland, Mrs. Carl Kruger, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Garreath, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Krampe, Ft. Loramie; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hollenbacher, St. Henry.

VAN WERT

S. LTZGABER VISITS
VAN WERT HOME

VAN WERT, August 29.—Hon. G. M. Saltzgeber, United States commissioner of pensions, who returned to his home in Van Wert yesterday from Washington, was notified last evening that the committee of the house of representatives handling the new pension bill, advocated and fostered by Mr. Saltzgeber, had unanimously in favor of its passage.

Julie Smith, by his next friend Julius H. Smith, has filed suit in common pleas court against the Gallop and Northern Traction company asking for $3,095 damages for injuries received March 19 when an automobile operated by the company turned over. Smith, who is a salesman of a Van Wert overall company, states in his petition that the driver of the car operated it in a careless manner, causing the accident. H. L. Cherrington, of Gallop and H. I. Conn are attorneys for the plaintiff.

It's either a feast or a famine with the Ohio Electric Interurban lines. This time last week there was not a car to be had and this noon there were four at the station at one time. Two passengers got on one of the cars.—Times.

To confer with a number of Van Wert people interested in the proposed amendment to the state constitution on the classification of property for taxation, A. D. Terhune, representative of the Ohio Taxpayers league with headquarters at Columbus, was in the city Thursday.

DELPHOS

DELAY SCHOOLS ON ACCOUNT OF FAIR

DELPHOS, Aug. 29.—The Washington township schools will open for the new school year on Monday, September 8. The Van Wert county fair opens Monday, September 1 and continues to and including September 5, and the schools will not open until the next Monday in order to give the children an opportunity to attend the fair.

Teachers have been employed for all schools in the township. Some of the schools have been repainted and other minor repairs made.

The Delphos Public Library, will again be open to the public on Tuesday, September 2, after having been closed a portion of the time in July and for the entire month of August. The librarian, Miss Marie Roosevelt, has been attending school at the University of Michigan where she took an eight weeks' term in the library school. She will again take up her work next Tuesday.

Miss Grace Hartshorn was chosen as a member of the city board of school examiners at the meeting of the board of education Wednesday evening to succeed A. J. Laudick. Miss Hartshorn has taught in the Delphos schools for a number of years and is well fitted for her new duties.

Votes on the nation-wide strike which is contemplated by men on the railroads of the country for Sept. 2 have been taken by the various organizations at the Clover Leaf shops in this city. The votes were not counted by the local officials, it is stated, and consequently the result of the vote here is not known.

A meeting of the Delphos Community club company will be held at the club rooms Friday evening. The question of raising funds for the American Road Machinery company addition will very likely be the matter of greatest interest to come before the meeting.

CELINA

FARM HOUSE BURNS
WITH ITS CONTENTS

CELINA, Aug. 29.—The large nine room house of Frank Moeller, living five miles east of Moeller, was burned to the ground, together with its entire contents.

In attempting to light the coal oil stove to prepare the evening meal the stove exploded and soon the house was a seething mass of flames.

Luckily the inmates escaped all injury with only the clothing they had on.

The flames soon spread to the surrounding buildings and the milk-house, chicken-house and boat-house, were soon destroyed also. The heavy loss was partially covered by insurance.

Raleigh Smith, 21 years of age, while working at the John Karch stone crusher Thursday morning met with what might have been a very serious accident. He attempted to uncouple two cars when they were started to be pulled up an incline, thus throwing him between the cars, badly hurting his left knee and receiving a bruise on his back.

Celina doctors were called and rendered the necessary medical assistance.

A cablegram from Counsel Busser, Trieste, July 31, 1919, states that the export of hides is now permitted from Trieste.

GERMAN PREDICTS POVERTY IN BERLIN

Paints Pessimistic Picture of Once Great Palaces Decaying in Disuse

BERLIN, August 29.—"The rich man will be reduced to relative beggary, and Berlin will become another Venice—not beautiful like Venice, but with its handsome houses, black after black, standing untenanted."

This flash of prophetic pessimism came from one of Germany's ranking captains of industry, Director Felix Deutsch, active head of the so-called "Aeg," the Allgemeine Elektrizitäts Gesellschaft, which is Germany's General Electric company. Director Deutsch was also a member of Germany's economic peace delegation at Versailles. He is a brother-in-law of Otto H. Kahn.

It was after a sober, unemotional analysis of conditions in Germany that this keen business brain slipped a cog, typical of Germany's troubled state of mind today, and suddenly let his lively imagination sketch a vivid picture of Berlin and Germany when the capital confiscation and income tax screws are applied to the inescapable limit.

"Take a man who is worth 20,000,000 marks today," he said. "You would call him a rich man. His income, estimated at 5 per cent, is 1,000,000 marks per annum. He will be subject to a 40 per cent capital confiscation. This will correspondingly cut his annual income to 600,000 marks. He must further pay a dividend from capital, tax, amounting to 2 per cent out of his 5 per cent interest. This leaves him 2 per cent on his confiscated capital."

"After paying this tax his original income of 1,000,000 marks has shrunk to 200,000 marks. On top of that comes the income tax. In this man's case it will be about 10 per cent. He will have an annual income left of 180,000 marks as against 1,000,000 formerly. He'll be a beggar."

Director Deutsch smiled whimsically. With a few strokes he sketched your fancy to speculate what

Actress Pickets "Persuading" a Mere Man to Help New York Theatre Strikers

Just what the legal definition of "persuasion" is we do not know, but this photograph shows a squad of actress pickets trying to "persuade" an actor that he should join the Actors' Equity Association and thus help to close more of New York's theatres. Stage women have been just as active as men in the actors' strike, which darkened a dozen well known play houses.

will happen when the inescapable attrition of taxes and superlatives and confiscation annihilates Germany's plutocracy, and wealth in general decays.

"This man," he continued, "probably bought several pictures in the course of the year, several works of art. He was a patron of the arts. He contributed heavily to the fostering of music and the drama. He contributed generously to all manner of philanthropies. Wherever for any such purpose, people came to him and his kind.

"This multimillionaire, with his income cut from 1,000,000 to 180,000 marks, won't be buying pictures or sculptures in future. He won't be able to patronize the arts, nor indulge in luxuries (giving employment to others), as heretofore. His large contributions to philanthropies will automatically cease.

"He won't even be able to keep up his establishment. He probably owns and lives in a large house. He'll be looking for a small flat or apartment somewhere. Whole blocks of palatial residences, of private houses, will stand untenanted because their owners cannot afford to keep them up and nobody else will be able to afford to buy them or live in them. In this respect Berlin may become a second Venice."

STORE POTATOES CAREFULLY

Potatoes may be kept best during the winter time if stored in well-ventilated cellars where the temperature is about 45 degrees, according to gardeners at the Ohio Experiment Station. The gardeners regard it necessary to caution farmers to store potatoes carefully this year because of tendency to the development of rots. Clean, sound potatoes in the cellar, where the temperature is kept fairly constant by ample ventilation, will keep until the spring months.

Where pits are dug to store potatoes the main point is to keep the potatoes through excessive freezing and to prevent rapid thawing. Temporary storage out of doors may be made by covering the potatoes with leaves, straw, or other litter, to keep out the frost.

corn for two years' seed is the opinion of agronomists at the Ohio Experiment Station. They point out that the time for selecting seed will soon be at hand and that whenever possible taking out representative ears from the standing corn proves to be the most successful method of getting good seed corn. In this manner ears may be selected that are apparently free from disease, the stage of maturity may be noted, and the corn may be stored away where it will be completely dried out before fall freezing begins.

Tests conducted at the Ohio Experiment Station show that the best results may be secured when the seed corn is dried by some artificial heat early in the season and then stored carefully to prevent destruction by rats or vermin. It has been found that cold winters will injure seed corn when it is not well dried out before severe freezing begins.

COVER CROPS AID
FRUIT TREE GROWTH
Cover crops planted during the late summer in orchards have been found to aid materially in producing plant food for trees and keeping the orchards in good condition at the Ohio Experiment Station. Under the cover crop system, rye, hairy vetch, crimson clover or oats are sown during the latter part of August, so that they produce a heavy growth and then are plowed under in the spring.

The cover crops have been found to take up the excess moisture, which allows the trees to better withstand a severe winter. The legume cover crops also add nitrogen to the soil, which is valuable for producing fruit the next season.

FORESTERS TO HOLD MEETING
To study forestry operations on the hill lands of southeastern Ohio, the Ohio Forestry Society has arranged for its summer meeting at the Waterloo State Forest, Athens

County, and at the forest holding at the Carbondale Coal Company, for September 12-13.

The speakers selected for the meeting are Colonel R. Enderlin, President of the Carbondale Coal Company; H. E. Rogers, President, Ohio Forestry Society; Lieut. G. D. Coog, Cincinnati Municipal Forest; J. W. Calland, Miami Conservancy District; Forest W. Dean and Edmund Secrest, Ohio Experiment Station.

MARION TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS ARE READY

Marion township schools are ready for the opening September 8. Considerable difficulty was experienced in Marion in filling the ranks of the teaching corps because of the fact that a number of teachers resigned during the summer to accept positions elsewhere. All positions have been filled, however, at the present time. The school buildings in the township have been completely overhauled, and cleaned in readiness for the opening.

HAPPY ENDING TO DIVORCE DECREE

"She fell in love with her husband," might be an appropriate title for the story of the lives of Edna Elia Mayberry, 27, and Robert J. Mayberry, who were divorced about two years, and who Thursday afternoon stood before Justice Morris and had the marital knot retied.

After being married six years the couple were divorced. Then Mayberry went away to war. In the meanwhile they both found out just how much they needed each other, so when he returned from overseas, they decided to patch up old difficulties and try to work in double harness once more.

POSTOFFICE LABOR DAY SCHEDULE

The following hours will be observed at the Lima post office on Labor Day, according to an announcement of Postmaster Sullivan: money order and registry windows open from 9 until 10 o'clock; general delivery and stamp window open from 9 until 10 o'clock; no delivery of mail by city, rural or parcel post carriers. Mails will be made up and dispatched as usual; regular evening collection at 5 o'clock.

MASTERPIECE STOLEN.

BOLOGNA, Italy, Aug. 29.—Francis's masterpiece, the "Madonna and Child" has been stolen from the Accademia Di Belle Arti, and a colored photograph has been substituted for it. The photograph was pasted in the frame to conceal the theft.

This masterpiece dates back to the fifteenth century. The police suspect some visitors at the gallery last Sunday and have their names.

MERCER HAS REASONS TO BE HOT AFTER KELLAR'S SCALP

What Either One Does in the Coming Labor Day Battle Will Decide What is in Store For the Future, as Both Battlers are After the Same Match.

(By JAMES F. BURBA.)

It's going to be a great old slam-bang contest which will be staged here Labor Day night when Terry Kellar, of Dayton, and Billy Mercer, of Pittsburgh, climb into the squared circle to determine which is the best man. The battle will simply be another illustration of the survival of the fittest, each fighter at present claiming he is the "fittest."

However, the matter will be fully decided on that night. Now from what dope we can gather it looks as though Mercer is going to have a shade the better of the go, but if you place your berries on the battle don't bet that the Pittsburgh lad will put Kellar to sleep. Better men than Mercer have tried that stunt and failed.

Kellar is as clever a battler as ever donned a pair of trunks, but he has the habit of covering if he is hard pushed. However, his manager informed Matchmaker Wildoner that Kellar will fight over every inch of the ring, and will not seek cover. If this is done then fans may rest assured they are going to witness one of the hottest battles ever staged around here.

Both Anxious to Win.

Both boys are anxious to win this struggle as each has aspirations toward meeting Harry Greb. Kellar has met Greb twice. The first time he got the decision over Greb. Recently at Dayton, Greb staged a comeback and whipped Kellar to a standstill. Kellar, at that battle, had gone stale, his manager says. That will be guarded against this time, and he is expected to stage a battle which will be worthy of the name.

Mercer is also very desirous of meeting Greb, whether or not he will, remains with the outcome of the Labor Day meet. He has met Greb once, and lost the decision to him. He now hopes for another chance and by whipping Kellar he is sure of a match with his former running mate.

Mercer has been yelling for a match with Greb for some time, and Greb hands him that time-worn cry of, "Go get a reputation." Mercer has whipped everything that has met him in the past year, but it doesn't seem to satisfy Reddy Mason, who handles Greb. Eastern fight promoters, however, have promised that if Mercer whips Kellar here Labor Day they will match him with Greb.

Classy Semi-Windup. The semi-windup Labor Day night might well grace the head of any fight card for both Teague and Gary are coming battlers. Many local fans have had an opportunity of seeing Teague work, and they all say he is one of the best little men around here. He hails from Muncie, Ind.

Toague only recently met Happy McHenry, and those who witnessed that go declare up to the fourth round he had the McHenry lad "hitting" it all around the ring. In the fourth McHenry landed a chance blow on Teague's wind pipe, and took all the battle out of him. He was plucky, however, and went the limit. McHenry got the decision.

Tommy Gary, when he laid off from the fight game about a year ago had made a good record. After staying away from the game for several months he re-entered the squared circle and is today considered one of the best battlers in Ohio. Recently he knocked out Eddie Miller, of Muncie, in the second round. Later he got the decision over Frankie Callahan in Dayton.

Many fans who have seen Gary work, predict the lad will be meeting some of the best lightweights in the country within a short time. He has a good punch in either hand and is shifty on his pins.

Bruno Suter and Don Baxter will stage the preliminary. Suter, hails from Akron, but is a native of Ottawa. He is very popular with Ottawa fans who have already purchased a number of tickets and are coming here to root for him. Baxter is a local boy, and Labor Day night will make his debut in the ring.

He has not come very good talent around Lima, and looks to be a comer. These two lads declare they will more than hold up their end of the show.

JACK DEMPSEY'S SHOW AFFECTED BY STRIKES

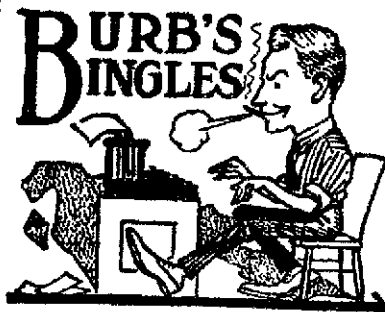

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Jack Dempsey became affected by the actors' strike today.

The champion is booked for a few weeks here. But today it appeared he would have no place to put on his show. Permission was asked of union officials, who have tied up practically all theatres in Chicago by strikes, to use one of the theatres closed by striking stage hands and musicians.

Electrical apparatus has been invented by a Japanese by which all movements of a ship can be controlled from the bridge without signaling to the engine-room.

WILL MEET GARY LABOR DAY

TOMMY TEAGUE, MUNCIE, INDIANA, LAD Who will be pitted against Tommy Gary here Labor Day Night, is a game lad, and will hold up his end of the exhibition.

It's a shame these games the Reds are winning can't be applied to the percentage column in the National race.

Oh, well, they don't need em so blooming bad.

Say, didja notice what the lowly Phils did to the Giants yesterday?

Phillies got peeved and whipped the McGraw clan 14 to 2

'Saith the Sage of Hawk Creek: "The only cheap thing in Lima now-a-days is advice."

At that the sage had better stay away from lawyers.

Old Alf Tennyson was right when he spealed that little speal about the saddest words of, etc., etc.

Rockport snaked home in the fifth event at Anakeeta yesterday and paid $100 to $1.

Oh, what a vacation we could have had if we had just played about an X in the pari-mutuals on that goat!

Ford Schupp might be a has-been in the eyes of McGraw, but he twirled a one-hit game yesterday against the Pirates.

Muggsy McGraw could use some of these one-hit birds, eh?

Kellar has risen in our estimation. Last night he put Billy Moxon to sleep in the third round of their go at Flint.

HAMILL MAKES BIG OFFER TO LEONARD

DENVER, Col. August 29.—Jimmy Hamill, a boxing promoter, today telegraphed Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, offering him $20,000, win, lose or draw, to meet Charley White, of Chicago, in a 29-round decision contest for the championship in Denver Thanksgiving day. Hamill sent the offer to Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager, in New York City.

JUST A RULE

A sailor had been showing an old lady over a large liner, and, after thanking him, she suddenly remarked:

"I see that according to the ship's orders tips are forbidden."

The sailor then turned to the visitor and, with a knowing look, answered:

"Why, bless yer, ma'am, so were apples in the Garden of Eden."—Exchange.

BRAVES AFTER NEW PERFORMERS

SEATTLE, Wash. August 29.—The Boston baseball club of the National league has telegraphed to the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league offering to trade Jim Thorpe and one or two other players for Lyle Bibebe, pitcher, and Bill Cunningham, fielder, of the local team, it became known today. The local directors expected to meet today to take action on the matter.

GIANTS ARE STILL SIGNING 'EM UP

FARGO, N. D., August 29.—Joe Guyon, former Carlisle athlete and team mate of Jim Thorpe, has been signed by the New York Giants, according to an announcement made here today. He will report early in September. Guyon has been playing sem-professional in Minnesota and North Dakota.

McGregor the Great Loses Second Race of G. C. Season When Mariondale Brushes By READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 29.—McGregor the Great, with Cox up, met defeat for the second time this season at the Grand Circuit meeting yesterday when Mariondale brushed by in the second and third heats of the Massachusetts 2:12 class trotting under Tommy Murphy's whip, and won.

McGregor the Great, was almost a prohibitive favorite, having won the first heat in the race Wednesday before the event was held over because of weather conditions. Mariondale was outclassed yesterday but came strong today in 2:06 1-4 and 2:06 3-4.

It was a Murphy day, as the New York reinsman drove Direct C Burnett and Sanardo to victories in straight heats in the Neponset and the Pilgrim. The fastest heat in the Neponset was paced in 2:03 1-4 and in the Pilgrim in 2:05. Cox, with Frank Dewey tried every art in driving to win the Neponset. Murphy's start had the best of the brushes.

Ed Geers drove a winner in the American horse breeder futurity, for three year old trotters, Molly Knight going over in straight heats the best time being 2:06 1-4. Wilkes Brewer won the best race of her extended turf career in capturing the blue hill, 2:06 class for trotters, in three heats, and Little Leo had just enough to win the Boston Globe event for two year old trotters. The fastest heat in the Blue Hill was 2:04 1-2 and in the Globe 2:11.

Authorities stopped betting on the races.

Six races were on the program for today's grand circuit meeting at Readville, the American Horse Breeders Futurity for two year old trotters, valued at $3,000; the President's Stake for 2:09 trotters, worth $3,000; the 2:17 pace for $1,000; the 2:24 trot for $1,000, the postponed exhibition race between Mabel Trask and Lu Princeton and the 2:17 trot for amateur drivers.

KELLAR KNOCKS OUT MOXON IN THIRD ROUND OF FIGHT

Battler Who is to Meet Billy Mercer Here Labor Day Hands Sleep Potion to Flint Fighter in Third Round Last Night

(By JAMES F. BURBA.)

Terry Kellar, of Dayton, who will meet Billy Mercer, of Pittsburgh, here Labor Day night, put Billy Moxon to sleep in the third round of their battle last night at Flint, Mich. The affair was a slaughter from the first tinkle of the bell, and it was all in Kellar's favor. Both lads were in the pink of condition when they climbed between the ropes, and Flint sports were backing their fighter to the last berry.

Moxon opened the fight assuming the offensive. The first was pretty even each giving and taking quite a few punches. When the gong tapped for the second frame Kellar switched and assuming the offensive drove Moxon against the ropes with a series of lefts and rights.

After a short but fierce struggle in this session Kellar swung and connected with Moxon's right jaw sending him to the floor. The referee counted eight, and the Flint boy arose groggily to his feet. He was under cover for the remainder of the round. Kellar was unmerciful slugging both fists into Moxon's body.

The gong sounded for the third round, and Kellar knowing he had his opponent going met Moxon nearly in the latter's corner. Slam, bang. Moxon wobbled and swung back. Kellar jabbed one to the body, and Moxon dropped his guard. The same old story, a jab to the point of the chin, and the battle was over.

The go was one of the cleanest short fights in the history of Flint fight annals, and sports around that section are taking their choicest off to the Dayton fighter.

This makes the battle to be staged here Labor Day look more promising. All of Kellar's staleness which was very conspicuous when he fought Harry Greb in Dayton has disappeared, and his manager says he is now and will be in the very best of condition when he steps into the squared circle here next Monday.

DOUGLAS TO PITCH AGAINST RAIL-LIGHTS

CHICAGO, August 29.—Phil Douglas, former Cub pitcher and later of the Giants, whose whereabouts has been unknown since his suspension by Manager McGraw, is in Chicago today. With his appearance here the announcement was made that the pitcher had signed a contract with the Logan Squares and would pitch on Sunday for the local semi-professional team in a game against the Rail Lights of Toledo.

ARMY FOOD SALE TO START TONIGHT

CITY OFFICIALS TO START SALE FRIDAY AFTERNOON AT FOUR

Sale Will Continue This Evening to Give Workmen a Chance

ONLY CANNED GOODS

On Sale as Meats Supposed to Be Shipped Here Have Not Arrived

ARMY FOOD PRICES

|------------------|---------|
| Tomatoes | 16c |
| Stringless Beans | 12c |
| Sweet Corn | 10 1/2c |
| Peas | 11c |
| Baked Beans | 8c |

When the city opened its market for the sale of canned army foods at four o'clock Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, there were only a few on hand owing to the fact that no announcement had been made of the time the sale would begin, and most Lima citizens were laboring under the impression that a disposal of the foodstuffs would not take place until tomorrow.

However, Marketmaster Herbolzheimer decided that it would be better to open the sale this afternoon, and conduct it until 9 o'clock tonight. In this manner, he thinks, the workmen will have an opportunity to make their purchases just as soon as other citizens. The market will close this evening at 9 o'clock, and indications are, a late hour this afternoon, the market house will be thronged with anxious buyers, as local newspapers will have reached the homes of all citizens by the time they have completed their daily task, as a result of which, many will journey up town this evening to take advantage of the wonderful savings realized.

CLAIMS BIG SAVING

The foodstuffs, according to Herbolzheimer, are being sold at the original cost to the government plus the freight, making each can cost approximately 1-2 or 3-4 cent more than the price paid the government. A purchaser will be allowed any quantity when he convinces the market master that the food is for the consumption of his immediate family, and not for sale.

No Meats Come

No meats arrived with the vegetables and officials declare they have no idea as to whether they will arrive. It is understood that an effort will be made within the next few days to locate the meat, or to ascertain whether or not it will be shipped.

5,000 Cans Here

In the shipment which arrived yesterday afternoon there are approximately 5,000 cans of tomatoes, stringless beans, sweet corn, peas and baked beans.

The tomatoes will sell for 16 cents per can; corn at 10 1/2 cents per can; stringless beans, 12 cents per can; peas 11 cents per can, and baked beans at 8c per can. This, city officials claim, is a large saving as compared with the current prices being paid for the articles in the local stores.

If there is any money left after the divisions and freight have been paid for, it will be divided up among local charity institutions by Herbolzheimer. However, it is estimated there will be no remaining funds as the costs have been figured down to a fine point, allowing only for the actual cost, freight and spoilage.

Must Bring Baskets

Purchasers are urged to bring market baskets, as the great rush anticipated tonight and Saturday will necessitate the handling of customers as rapidly as possible.

May Open Sunday

If any vegetables remain on hand after tomorrow evening, Marketmaster Herbolzheimer will open the market house until 11 o'clock Sunday morning, he stated.

Carl Market Too

With the army food on sale and the regular curb market sale tomorrow the Lima housewife will be able to prepare a Sunday dinner much cheaper than she has been able to in many months, and the household of C. of L. will get a fresh wallop.

HEADS NOT GUILTY

When arraigned in police court on a charge of receiving stolen property, James Meeker, local pawn broker, pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Bernard Rooney, Buckland farmer, alleged Meeker purchased a diamond ring stolen from him some time ago.

Conductor Dies Following Last Week's Operation

Claude F. Railing, 49, for the past several years a conductor for the Ohio Electric, died at the St. Joseph hospital in Ft. Wayne Thursday, following an operation undergone several weeks ago. The remains were accompanied to Lima Thursday night and taken to his home on South Pine street.

Besides the widow a sister, Mrs. O. E. Bennett, Atlanta, Ga., and two brothers, Charles Jailing, of Lima, and Thomas, of Ft. Wayne, survive him. He was a member of Camp 2,230, Modern Woodmen of America. Requiem mass will be celebrated Monday morning at 8 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church. Interment will probably be made in Gethsemani cemetery.

CIVIL SERVICE TESTS FOR STATE POSITIONS ON SEPT. 16-17-18TH

Twenty-one examinations will be conducted by the State Civil Service commission on September 16, 17 and 18 of applicants for positions in the state service. The official bulletin of the commission which has just been issued, and which gives complete information regarding all of the examinations will be mailed free upon request.

Two of the best positions are those for director of industrial hygiene, for the state department of health, and a rate clerk for the insurance department. Both positions pay $2,000 annually. Messengers, guards, stenographers, clerks, clerical help, grade teachers, labor foremen, actuarial clerks, and inspectors for the automobile department and blind commission are on the list. In every position there are opportunities for promotion, and splendid salaries are provided from the very first.

Those who are interested in securing a good state position should send for a copy of the bulletin, as it gives the subjects of each examination, the date on which it will be held and full particulars. With the bulletin, application blanks will be mailed free at the same time.

CHAUTAUQUA WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Largest Season Ticket Sale Ever Recorded in Lima Was Made

The Chautauqua which closed Thursday evening was a great success, according to Secretary L. E. Ludwig, who stated Friday afternoon that the largest season ticket sale ever made for a Lima chautauqua had been recorded. About 1200 tickets including adult and juniors were disposed of.

While the directors have not yet met to settle up the business affairs of the chautauqua, it is assured that the sessions were a financial success.

Last night market the closing of the Carl Albert company. Great credit for its success is due to the members of the Lima Chautauqua association, especially the committee in charge, under whose auspices the Chautauqua was brought here. L. E. Long is president of the association and L. E. Ludwig secretary. Walter Parmenter was publicity chairman.

Stamander Tom Skoyhill, Australian poet was the speaker for the Thursday night's session. The afternoon program consisted of a patriotic concert by the junior chautauquans and a concert by the Fisk Jubilee Singers, who also gave a concert in the evening.

CORP. CAMP VISITS LIMA

R. J. Camp, Corporal of the Sixth Marines, Second Division, who has been in service for the past two years, receiving his discharge August 14th, is visiting with D. L. Rupert, of North College street and with Al. H. Clark, of the Lima Driving Park. Mr. Camp will leave in a few days for Toledo to resume his old position as chief rate clerk, to the auditor of the Clover Leaf Railroad, with headquarters in Toledo.

ACADEMY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED FOR CAVALRY COMPANY

Brisk Request for Enrollment in New Lima "Black Horse Troop"

EQUIPMENT IS COMING

Will Be Here By September 15th and Drilling Will Then Commence

Lieutenant Harry Horner returned from Columbus yesterday after making final arrangements with Adjutant General Layton for the new Lima cavalry troop. Lieut. Horner was given the preliminary papers for enlisting men.

By evening it is expected about 25 men will have enlisted as Lieut. Horner reported a good morning's result, considering that many men who are desirous of enlisting did not know that enlistments are now open.

One Hundred Want In
Yesterday there were fully five score men signed a petition showing that they were willing to enlist as soon as the lists were open. Those who do not understand fully the requirements and regulations for enlistments may communicate with Lieutenant Horner at the Horner & Steele store.

Sixty-five men are needed to form a squadron and it is expected that it will be more than filled by the first of next week. After the enlistment is completed the government will send all supplies here and the troop will be organized at once. It is expected all arrangements will be completed with the horses and equipment here by the latter part of September.

The horses will be quartered at the driving park until arrangements can be made to build an academy building. Plans are now under way for the building and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupancy before snow falls.

FUNERAL OF MRS. IIAMES, MONDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Hazel James, 28, wife of William James, 118 North West street who died at her home Thursday following a long illness from tuberculosis will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. Interment will be made in Woodlawn cemetery. The deceased was born in St. Mary's but had resided in Lima for several years.

Besides the husband two small children, her mother and a brother, Raymond Upmeyer, Dolphus, survive her.

ILLNESS OF SIX MONTHS IS ENDED

Mrs. Emma Williams, 77, wife of Gasper Williams, 711 South Main street, died at her home Thursday following an illness of six months from a complication of diseases. She was born in Hard county. Besides the husband, four daughters and four sons survive her. They are Mrs. Eva Cahill, Munsing Mich.; Mrs. H. Walters and Bessie Williams at home, Sons are Herbert, Charles, and Raymond of Lima, and Roy of Marion. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MRS. LOUIS DEAD

Mrs. Ellen Louis, 19, died Thursday night at the City hospital following a lingering illness of 2 years duration from a complication of diseases. For some time Mrs. Louis had made her home with Mrs. E. F. Davis, North Main street. A son, Wilbur Louis, of Hamilton Ohio is the nearest surviving relative. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to join the children in thanking the Automobile club for the enjoyable time on their annual picnic. The occasion is always looked forward to with great joy.
Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hixby and Children of the Home.

Had Bilious Attacks.

"Some time ago I had indigestion and frequent bilious attacks. I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and was greatly surprised by the quick benefit I received from a few doses of them. One bottle cured me as I have not had any return of them," writes Mrs. Ella Wright, Chillicothe Mo. If you have any trouble with your digestion give these tablets a trial. They will do you good.

Lima Party Motors 5,100 Miles and Has No Punctures

If every motorist could enjoy freedom from punctures for 5,100 miles there would be more long touring trips taken. A Lima party has just returned after touring for six weeks in the west and when they stopped the motor in Lima the speedometer on the car showed that just 5,100 had been covered in the long trip.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, Frank H. Downing, and R. H. Downing, and visited Salt Lake City, Pike's Peak, the Yellowstone National Park and other points of interest in the golden west. The trip was made in the Scott car.

LIMA POLICE MAKE SPLENDID RECORD

Recover 40 Cars Out of a Total of 54 Stolen In Lima Wooster, Ohio, police Thursday recovered the Ford car stolen from G. Kenner, 141 Tuesday morning from in front of the Norval hotel. Police here were notified late Thursday afternoon, and Kenner went to Wooster to retrieve the machine.

The Ford was found abandoned about five miles this side of Wooster. Evidently the thieves rather than fix a blow-out which occurred in a spare tire, left the car.

The local police department is making a wonderful record for recovering stolen cars. Of the 52 machines stolen in and around Lima this year, 12 have been recovered.

STRIKE SITUATION HAS NOT CHANGED

Telephone Linemen Reject Offer—Moulders and Employers Sit Tight

At a meeting of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph company's linemen last night, the workmen voted to reject the company's offer of an increase of 12 cents an hour, 12.50 bringing their pay up to that granted by the Ohio Electric Railway company.

Just what will be the next move in the situation can not be definitely determined, according to the statement of George Wetheans, general manager of the company, Friday afternoon.

The moulders' strike remains practically the same, and it is the determination of both parties concerned to "sit tight." In the meanwhile the factories are closed, and it is understood, the workers are effecting a stronger organization.

FIRST NATIONAL IS DEPOSITORY

It is very probable the First National Bank of this city, will act as depository for the Sinking Fund, according to a statement made this morning by D. L. Rupert. Bids from the local banks and trust companies were opened at a meeting of the Sinking Fund trustees Thursday afternoon.

The First National was the highest bidder, offering 1.04 percent, while the American bank was next with an offer of 1.02 percent. The City Bank was the lowest bidder with an offer of 1 percent.

As soon as the First National Bank files the bond required by the Sinking Fund trustees, it will be awarded the contract.

JUNK DEALER'S PARADISE

"Chelsea, Mass., is noted for its junk dealers," said a Lima man recently returned from there. "While those dealers handle anything in the line of junk you can think of. You can get anything from them all the way from the discarded piece of armament of a dismantled battleship down to a weaver's loom. Of course Chelsea is noted for other things, but it is especially conspicuous because of being the home of a great many junk dealers."

IS SEVERELY INJURED.

S. W. Freeman, formerly of Lima, was severely injured this week when he was caught in a wheel in a big industrial plant in Cleveland. The breaking of a wire is all that saved him from instant death.

PROSECUTOR SAID TO BE IN TOUCH WITH THE FEDERAL COURT

Operative of United States Department of Justice Visits Lima

LOOKS INTO PRICES

Rumor Uncle Sam Will Dip Deep Into Lima Food Conditions Soon

While no definite information concerning Prosecutor Cable's trip to Toledo today may be ascertained it is the opinion of many that he is in conference with Judge Edwin Lynch, of the federal court in that city, in an effort to effect a probe of local foodstuffs hoarding and exorbitant prices.

Harold L. Scott, operative of the federal department of justice, was in Lima last night making an investigation of the food situation. He was in conference with Cable up to a late hour, it is understood. According to information received this morning, the prosecutor imparted knowledge of certain cases of food hoarding and exorbitant prices to Mr. Scott.

Phillips Family Reunion Held At Lafayette

The 18th annual reunion of the Phillips family was held yesterday at Jackson township Park, Lafayette. The reunion is held at different places yearly. Next year it will be at Lake county, Indiana, the year following at Knox county, and 1922 in Allen county again. The officers for the 1922 reunion elected yesterday are: J. A. Phillips, Ada, president; Melvin Scoles, Beaverdam, first vice president; John Carman, Alger, second vice president; C. B. Phillips, Lima, secretary and treasurer.

The address of welcome was given by Rev. W. H. Scoles, the invocation by Rev. J. W. Welch, and the principal address by Hon. N. W. Cunningham, Bluffton.

HIP BROKEN IN FALL

Mrs. Eliza Osterander suffered a painful injury when she broke her hip yesterday afternoon, while walking in front of the City Bank. In some manner she caught her foot and fell to the pavement, fracturing her hip. She was removed in the Williams and Davis ambulance to 1422 West Market street and later to the City hospital for an examination.

Drink City Water; State Board Says It's Now Germless

Several matters of public health interest were considered by members of the board of health at their regular meeting held Thursday evening. One of the matters discussed was the provision of the new health ordinance which is to be passed to protect Lima against the ravages of social diseases. Before January 1 it will be necessary for all those employed in restaurants, cafeterias and eating houses, as well as barbers and proprietors of "beauty parlors" to undergo examinations at the health clinic.

Reports show that advices from the state health department indicated Lima's city water was free from typhoid germs. The board of health advises it be used in preference to other kinds.

NOTICE TO DEMOCRATIC ELECTORS OF BATH TOWNSHIP.

There will be a meeting of the democratic voters of Bath township on Monday evening, September 1st, at the township house, to place in nomination a ticket for the November election.

FOUR DIVORCES; ANOTHER HELD UP

Judge Klinger yesterday afternoon untied the marital knots of four unhappy couples, and is now contemplating the advisability of cutting another.

Clara L. Richheimer recently sued Arthur J. Richheimer, and Judge Klinger heard the case. He has taken it under advisement.

Dora Burden was granted a divorce from Robert Burden on the grounds of cruelty. Burden first sued his wife for divorce, and she filed a cross petition.

William Payne was granted a divorce from Clara Payne, who he avers broke up their home by taking in boarders.

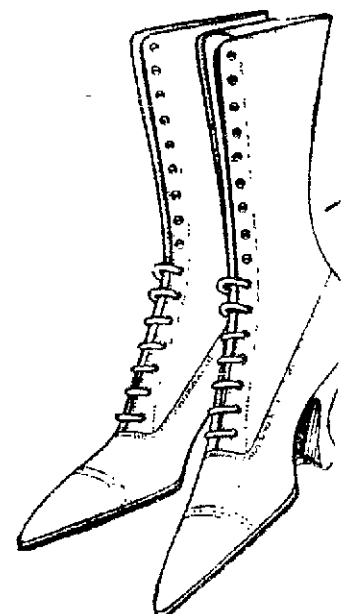

On the grounds of desertion, Florence Good was given a divorce from Harley L. Good.

Cruelly formed the basis upon which Frances J. Burgoon was granted a divorce from Otto Burgoon.

To enable women to dry their hair after shampooing it a member of that sex has invented a rack shaped like a brimmed hat, over which the hair can be spread.
